Start your journey with a visit to the UNESCO's World Heritage Site, Pompeii. When Mt Vesuvius erupted in 79 AD, Pompeii was buried under lava and ash and lay forgotten for hundreds of years. Explore the ancient city covered by volcanic dust and discover the excavated remains of the Forum, Thermal Baths, Lupanare and Vetti's House with its beautiful frescos. Next, you will go to Mount Vesuvius, the only active volcano in continental Europe. You will have the opportunity to climb the mountain (approximately 45 minutes), accompanied by your guide, and walk around the crater at an elevation of 3,900 feet. Once you reach the summit you'll get to bask in the panoramic views of the picturesque Bay of Naples from east to west.

✕ Pompeii & Herculaneum Tour from Naples

Interests: history, archaeology, architecture, nature

A UNESCO World Heritage Site, Pompeii is one of the most renowned attractions in Italy, drawing travelers from across the world each year to explore its ruins. When Mt Vesuvius erupted in 79 AD, Pompeii was buried under lava, ash, and pumice and completely forgotten for more than a thousand years. Explore the ancient city covered by volcanic dust and discover the excavated remains of the Forum, Thermal Baths, Lupanare and Vetti's House with its beautiful frescos. Your next stop will be Herculaneum. Once a thriving ancient residential town filled with villas of wealthy Romans, Herculaneum has been preserved like no other site in the world. The city was buried beneath 16 meters of ash and mud during the eruption, and this layer of soft tufa - a type of coarse rock, saved two-story Domus homes with the internal architecture and décor intact, including features in wood and marble, decorations, jewelry, and even organic remains like food, providing a unique view into the daily lives during Ancient Rome.
