Private Naxos Yesterday & Today Island Tour

Starting from your hotel your first stop of the day will be in the small village of Damalas and its traditional pottery workshop where you will see how a lowly ingredient - clay turns into a work of art. You will then head towards the south-west side of the village, to learn about another practice tied to the Greek identity: production of olive oil. The village's restored olive press will give you precious insight into practices and a way of life hundreds of years ago. Moving on you will then arrive at Halki, a village situated in a fertile plateau, adorned with beautiful neoclassical mansions and home to the second site on your journey, Vallindas Distillery that made the very first, now iconic liqueur "Kitron". You will learn about the production and taste one of the three PDO liqueurs in the country. Your next stop is in the Paleo-Christian church of Panagia Drosiani. The oldest nave of this church was built between the 4th and the 6th century and is one of the oldest in the Balkans. The next location you will visit is the picturesque mountain village of Apiranthos. The marble-paved alleys, majestic view, distinct traditions and rich culture are only a few of the charms that will make you fall in love with this picturesque gem.

Finally, you will visit the verdant Flerio, a very important area throughout antiquity not only for its famous marble but also for the fresh water that supplied the entire island. Nowadays a fragment of Flerio's former glory survives in the impressive 7th century BC, 6,4-meter long statue of Kouros (dubbed "the Greek").
